2nd Voter's Guide

For the April 6th Election:

4 At-Large City Council Seats and Issues 1 and 2

From The Gazette, March 24, 1999 -- The 10 candidates running for the Four At-Large City Council seats on April 6th were asked a number of questions. Below are the answers to Question #4:

"Question #4: What public policy, if any, should the city have relating to gays and lesbians?"

10 Candidates are running. Vote for only 4.

Joanne Colt: "no special rights for any group"

Dawson Hubert: "laws have already been established that protect all citizens across the board."

Lionel Rivera: "The city's policies should and do apply to all employees and citizens equally."

Robert Peloso: "There is no need for laws for special interest groups."

Conrad Czajkioski: "Federal discrimination laws address the issue of gay men and lesbians."

Sandra Damron: "Public policy should provide a discrimination free environment for everyone."

Ted Eastburn: "The city and its elected officials should set an example of honorable and respectful behavior."

Kendell Kretzschmar: "Each person should be able to do whatever the heart tells them to do without breaking the law."

Ross Moon: "the homosexual population...has no other means of identification than to say what they are."

Richard Skorman: "City policy should treat all citizens with dignity and respect and provide equal potential under the law."

Issues 1 and 2 could create huge debt and increase taxes.
